Developed and emerging equity markets enjoyed strong growth in January despite some analysts' warnings the markets are expensive as share prices march to all time highs. Emerging markets were benefited through continued strength in global growth, the weaker US dollar and robust growth in commodity prices.

Against this backdrop, CSE received Rs 4.0bn net foreign inflow during the month mainly on HNB, JKH and Melsta Corp which boosted overall market and investor confident. The latter part of the month, announcements of Softlogic Holding and rumour on Janashakthi Insurance attracted the retail participation back to the market which helped to end the month with positive note. Softlogic Holding announced a right issue and a private placements to raise Rs 7bn (Rs 3.9bn and Rs3.1bn respectively) to settle short term and long term borrowings. Rumour on sale of Janashakthi Insurance pushed the share price last few days of the month and later the company made public that they have received an offer for purchase of their general insurance business at Rs 16.4bn from Allianz SE.

Your fund returned 3.32% for the month outperforming the ASPI growth of 1.68%. Top positive contributors for the month's performance were Softlogic Holding, Janashakthi Insurance and Central Finance whist main detractors were Chevron Lubricant and People's Leasing. The fund improved its 'since inception' annualised return to 10.04% compared to ASPI of 2.87%.

February is a critical month for the market since the result of upcoming local government election will impact the market sentiment in the short term. However we believe, the long term prospect will remain robust with the current attractive valuations and improving macroeconomic condition.
