FUND MANAGER'S COMMENT

Fund performance & outlook

The fund gave a return of 0.64% for the month of February while the 91 day Treasury bill index increased by 0.43% for the same period. The fund is currently providing a tax free current yield of 7.82% to its investors. In February we expect the running yield to increase with the upward movement in interest rate. Our money market funds will effectively track interest rate movements going forward as we have kept our maturities relatively short.

FUND MANAGER'S COMMENT- Cont'd

Interest Rates and the Economy

The current gross official reserve level of USD 6.2 billion is equivalent to 66% of the foreign loan repayment requirement for the year. Uncertainty prevailing in the global capital markets and the Sri Lankan sovereign rating downgrade (from BB- to B+ by Fitch ratings) make the refinancing of foreign loans costly.

In February CBSL increased the policy rates by 50 basis points to cool down the credit growth which mainly fuelled the credit demand. Accordingly the SDR (Statutory Deposit Rate) & SLR (statutory Lending Rate) increased to 7% and 8.5% respectively. Credit growth peaked during November and December growing at 27% and 25% YoY.

The short term Treasury bill rates moved up by 50 – 60 basis points in response to the policy rate hike and we expect the short term rates to further move up at least by another 50 basis points, since still the shorter end of the yield curve remains flat compared to the steepening longer end.
