FUND PERFORMANCE

Guardian Acuity Equity Fund

The fund outperformed the benchmark ASPI on a YTD basis but remained in negative territory recording - 8.6% return for the period. Despite this negative returns, the fund maintained its significant (since inception) out performance by recording 10.9% annualised return compared to the ASPI return of 3.2%.

FUND PERFORMANCE
Period	GAEF	ASPI	S&P SL 20
1H 2016	-8.57%	-8.87%	-8.98%
Since Inception Cum.	56.90%	14.73%	11.66%
Since Inception CAGR	10.93%	3.21%	2.57%

At stock level, the main detractors were Distilleries, Aitken Spence, Seylan Bank (Non-Voting) and Hayleys Fabrics which were roughly down 15-25% during the first half of 2016. Main reason for the sharp drop was not because of fundamental weakness but due to a continuous foreign selling spree. Our top relative contributors were Asiri Hospitals, Textured Jersey and Ceylon Cold Stores which recorded positive growth for the holding period.

All the stocks in the portfolio have been thoroughly researched and we don't see any fundamental reason for share prices to go further down. Markets tend to rally upwards when investors believe that current and potential weaknesses in the macro economy are only temporary rather than permanent impediments. On the positive side, with the final agreement being reached with the IMF on the USD1.5 bn extended fund facility, we believe the country will gradually fall on track for much needed fiscal consolidation. Although measures like the VAT hike could hurt business growth over the short term, it will assist government to achieve its much needed revenue targets and improve overall fiscal position, which is vital in deciding interest rate direction as well. The ongoing key policy drives if implemented successfully, now with the guidance of IMF, would improve overall confidence in the market. In the short term, the main risk is current hawkish tone of the US fed which could change the risk appetite of foreign investors. This would encourage investors to pull out from emerging markets to some extent. However current attractive valuations will definitely encourage long-term investors and we highly recommend our existing and prospective investors to increase their equity allocation now to gain the maximum returns.

GUARDIAN ACUITY MONEY MARKET FUND

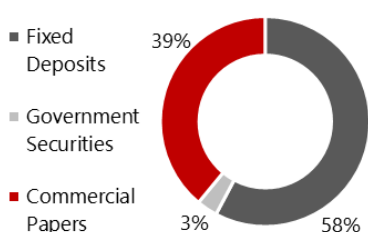

For the first half of 2016 the Guardian Acuity Fixed Income Fund provided a return of 4.25% which works out to an annualized return of 8.53%. The NDBIB-CRISIL 91 Day T-bill Index gave a return of 3.44% for the same time period. The fund had a focus on fixed deposits, government securities, commercial papers and other money market instruments with issuers of investment grade rating and above.

FUND CREDIT QUALITY

MATURITY PROFILE

The Fund has an emphasis of investing in high credit quality companies of minimum investment grade to ensure capital protection for its investors. Returns earned from unit trusts are tax free in the hands of unit holders and therefore corporate investors enjoy a substantial saving when considering corporate tax. The maturity profile has been structured keeping in mind the potential for increasing interest rates. A shorter maturity profile as depicted in the chart above allows the fund to take advantage of a rising interest rate environment and provide higher returns to investors.

As at 30th June 2016, the total net asset value of the fund was Rs. 4,853 million with 280 unit holders in the fund. The subscription and redemption price for the fund on 30th June 2016 was Rs.12.99.

For the first half of 2016 the Guardian Acuity Money Market Gilt Fund provided a return of 3.7% which works out to an annualized return of 7.42%. The NDBIB-CRISIL 91 Day T-bill Index gave a return of 3.44% for the same time period. The average maturity of the fund was 6.23 months as at 30th June 2016. The fund followed the strategy of investing over 6 to 12 months horizon under the current elevated interest rate environment.

The fund had an exposure of 16% to repurchase agreements with underlying government securities and 84% directly to Treasury bills. Returns earned from unit trusts are tax free in the hands of unit holders and therefore corporate investors enjoy a substantial saving when considering corporate tax.

MATURITY PROFILE

As at 30th June 2016, the total net asset value of the fund was Rs.505.13 million with 85 unit holders in the fund. The subscription and redemption price for the fund on this date was Rs.108.70.

ECONOMY & MARKETS

The Sri Lankan economy grew by 5.5%, in real terms, in the Q1 2016 compared to the growth of 2.5% recorded in the last quarter of 2015. Economic growth was mainly supported by the expansion of Industry and Services related activities, which grew by 8.3% and 4.9%, respectively. Meanwhile, Agriculture related activities recorded a moderate growth of 1.9% during this period due the contribution from tea decreasing by 11.6%. Within the Industry segment, rubber and plastic products have shown a considerable growth rate of 7.0% while textile and wearing apparel have shown a 1.9% growth. Among the sub activities of services, financial service activities have shown significantly higher growth rate of 15.9% while wholesale and retail trade recorded 5.7% growth.

The Asian Development Bank (ADB) expects the Sri Lankan economy to rebound by achieving a 5% growth in 2016 compared to 4.8% in 2015.

INFLATION

Inflation, as measured by the change in the Colombo Consumer Price Index (CCPI) (2006=100), increased to 6.0% in June 2016 from 2.8% in December 2015, on year-on-year basis. Both Food and Non-food categories contributed towards the year-on-year inflation in June 2016. The demand pressure in the economy stemming from excessive private sector credit growth (28.2% YoY in June 2016), a rupee depreciation of 9.1% against the US dollar on a year-on-year and an increase in indirect taxes (VAT from 12% to 15%) caused inflation to increase in the 1st half of 2016.

EXTERNAL SECTOR PERFORMANCE

Industrial Exports declined by 4.2% to USD 3,981 million during the first half of 2016 led by lower export performance recorded in petroleum products, transport equipment and spices. Export earnings from petroleum products, which mainly comprise bunker and aviation fuel, decreased considerably by 41% YoY owing to lower bunkering quantities and lower bunkering prices. Export earnings from transport equipment decreased by 67% in the 1st half of 2016 owing to drop in cruise ship exports.

Expenditure on imports dropped by 2.4% to USD 9,321 million during the first half of 2016. Import expenditure on vehicles, wheat and fertilizer declined significantly during the first half of 2016. Reflecting the impact of the policy measures taken by the government to curtail vehicle imports, transport equipment imports dropped by 43.5% to USD 291 million in the first half of 2016.

Inflows to the financial account elevated with the receipts of USD 168 million, the first tranche of the IMF Extended Fund Facility (IMF-EFF), USD 300 million syndicated loan facility and USD 1.4 billion foreign investments to the government securities market. Following the Brexit and the quantitative easing program in Japan the odds for a US Fed rate decreased and the foreign investments in the Sri Lankan government securities market rebounded. This resulted in a net inflow of foreign investments in Government securities in June 2016 compared to continuous outflows experienced during the first quarter of the 2016.

The overall BOP recorded a deficit of USD 1,186 million during the 1st half of 2016, compared to a deficit of USD 792 million during the corresponding period of 2015.

CREDIT GROWTH

At the 1st quarter of 2016 the private sector credit growth touched 27.7% year on year basis from 25% in January and the total government related credit demand (credit to government sector plus SOEs) remained 18% year on year. During the 1st quarter CBSL increased the policy rates by 50 basis points with an effort to curb the credit growth but it was not successful since there had been sufficient level of liquidity in the system since the central bank injected liquidity via purchasing treasury bonds. As a result, the credit to private sector growth on a year on year basis continued to be at 28% till June 2016 and the total government related credit demand slowed down to 15% on year on year basis following the tax increases in the 2nd quarter of 2016.

INTEREST RATES

Central Bank increased the policy rates by 50 basis points in February as a result the Standing facility deposit rate and standing facility lending rate increased 6.5% and 8.0%, respectively. In response to the policy rate hike Treasury bill rate continued to increase from 7.8% at the end January to 10.55% in June.

In line with the Treasury bill rate increase, the Average Weighted Prime Lending Rate (AWPLR) increased from 7.92% at the end of January to 10.23% in June, however, the Average Weighted Deposit Rate only increased to 6.7% from 6.2% during the same period. We expect the tightening cycle to be maintained until credit growth decelerates to more sustainable levels of around 18%. Based on this we feel, interest rates will remain at elevated levels providing good investment opportunities for our money market funds.

EQUITY MARKET

Source: Bloomberg

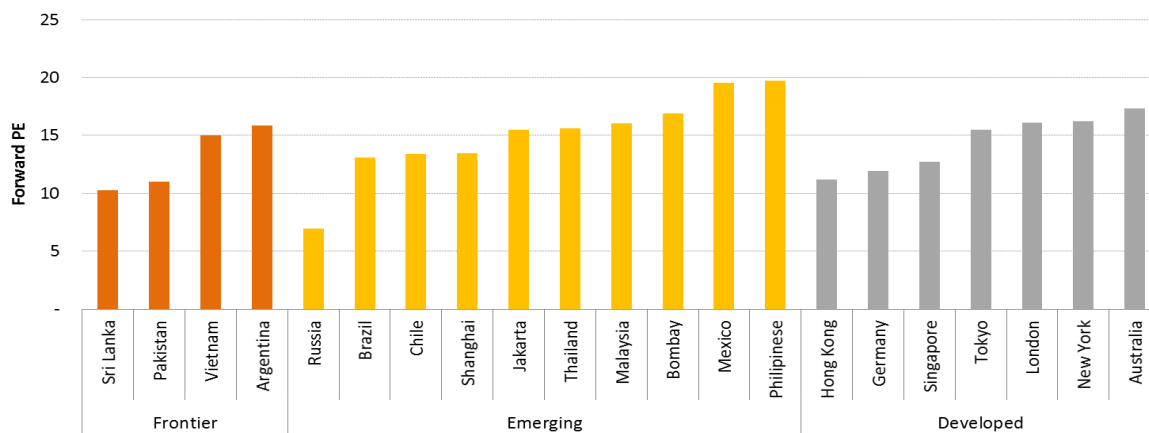

The year 2016 started on a negative note for emerging and frontier markets as US fed rate hike in later part of December 2015 and global growth concerns led to a significant capital outflows from these equity markets in January. From there onwards, the year has been overshadowed by macroeconomic and geopolitical events ranging from dropping oil price to unexpected result of Brexit (EU referendum to exit from European Union). This created significant volatility in the equity markets throughout the first six months of the year. Despite fragile investor sentiment and uncertainty with the Brexit vote, emerging market equities as represented by MSCI EM Index are back in the black, up 6.4% for 1H 2016, due to most of the central banks injecting fresh stimulus to offset downside economic risk which in turn increases risk appetite and demand for emerging and frontier market equities. However frontier market equities were in negative territory recording -0.1% return (1H 2016) with lagging effect to emerging markets.

Source; CSE, GFM research

Against this backdrop, the Colombo Stock Exchange (CSE) suffered from continuous foreign outflow of Rs 6.4 bn (net) year to date (YTD). On the local front, unclear policy direction, possible imposition of capital gains taxes and elevated interest rates have dampened investor sentiment and appetite. Accordingly, the All Share Price index (ASPI) and S&P 20 index fell by 8.9% and 9.0% respectively in 1H 2016. Construction & Engineering sector and Diversified Holdings were the biggest losers in the first half recording -17.9% and -15.6% return whilst Telecommunication sector, Banking, Finance & Insurance sector and Footwear & textile sector recorded negative returns ranging from -11.1% to -10.3%. Healthcare sector and Beverage, Food and Tobacco sector performed relatively well during the period recording a 9.7% positive return and -0.3% return.

Source: Bloomberg

However, fundamentals of the Colombo Stock Exchange got stronger during the period by recording 10.62% year on year (YoY) aggregate earnings growth in 1Q 2016. This brought down the forward Price to Earnings ratio (P/E) to 11 times making the CSE more attractive to foreign and local investors in comparison to peer countries and historical levels. But considering other economic factors, the state of fundamentals still appears mixed, but we have begun to see evidence on a number of fronts that the worst may be behind us.
